

Jailed Eight Months On Motor Vehicle Charges

Lloyd Cudmore of Port Colborne was found guilty on charges of failing to remain at the scene of an accident, driving when his license was under suspension and taking a vehicle without the consent of the owner, and was sentenced to eight months in jail.

On August 15 Cudmore ran into two cars on the Minden main street. One car belonging to Martyn Best of Haliburton was damaged to the extent of $125; and a car owned by Ed Harding of Minden received damages amounting to $10. The car driven by Cudmore was damaged to the extent of $250.

Witnesses to the accident turned the license number of the hit and run vehicle over to O.P.P. officer Ellwood Foster of the Minden detachment who investigated the case.

The next day Cudmore was located in the Haliburton area by O.P.P. officer Mount-steven of the Haliburton detachment. He was held in custody until August 22 when he was tried in Lindsay magistrate's court.

Carnarvon Store Robbed

Thieves in some manner gained entrance to Burton's store, Carnarvon, on Sunday night and while it is hard to estimate the amount of goods taken, a conservative figure would be $1,300.

It is apparent the marauders timed the robbery well as on every night but Sunday the Carnarvon Laundry, which is close by, is working all night. With no one around that evening the cost would seem to be comparatively clear.

As yet the robbers have not been apprehended, and while the O.P.P. in the area are carrying out an extensive investigation of the affair, they have not too much to work on.

Any small businessman today works for every cent he can make and it seems hard to see the fruits of those labors disappear overnight. But as in most places we have many who will not work and they, in order to get along, are not above robbing the man who will.

Car Accident Injures Richmond Hill Youth

Gary Richardson of Richmond Hill has, at time of writing, not regained consciousness from severe injuries suffered when the 1959 Renault in which he was riding with his father overturned.

The driver of the vehicle, Allan Richardson, escaped with minor injuries.

The accident happened in the vicinity of the Allsaw bridge which is located on Highway 121. We understand the car was severely damaged. Constable Earl Bush investigated.

The young boy was rushed to the hospital by the Minden ambulance.

Kinmount Fair Shapes Up To Big Event

For many years we have heard or read the slogan "all roads lead to Kinmount fair." This big show will take place in Kinmount on Saturday, September 3 and given any kind of decent weather the directors of this forward-looking fair are expecting another banner attendance.

Things get under way at 11 a.m. Saturday morning when the famous Kawartha Cavaliers will stage a drill on the main street and provide some stirring music as an accompaniment.

In the afternoon a giant parade is being held from the main street to the fair grounds and those who are in the grandstand will be treated to horse racing and entertainment by members of the Grand Ole Opry, who by the way, hail from Nashville, Tenn.

It would be difficult to list all the attractions, but we are sure that those who avail themselves of the opportunity to be present won't come away disappointed.

Surprise Party For Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Carnochan

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carnochan of Haliburton were really thrilled on Saturday night last when their entire family with the exception of Ken and his wife all walked into their home.

The grand occasion was a surprise wedding anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Carnochan who celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Killenbeck (Evelyn) of Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Green (Lois) of Lindsay; Bob Carnochan and his fiancée of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Carnochan of Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Carnochan of Eagle Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Dawson (Betty) of Haliburton and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bishop Jr. (Noreen) of Haliburton.

The surprised but happy parents received a grand array of presents including eight fancy cups and sau-

Harvey Fearrey Lands Big Bass

We have been show some good sized bass taken from Head Lake, Haliburton, but were shown the nicest one yet on Wednesday.

Harvey Fearrey, while fishing near Walling's bridge, landed this beauty which tipped the scales at 5 lbs., 2 oz. It measured 22½ in. in length.

For many years no one thought of fishing in Head Lake, but of late it has become known as one of the best bass lakes in the highlands.

When the family arrived they brought a delicious lunch with them and also a beautiful cake which adorned the table.

The Echo also joins in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Carnochan on their wedding anniversary.

Minden Fall Fair Planning Nears Completion

Plans for the Minden fall fair are progressing favorably. With only three weeks left, the directors, associate directors and officers are now busy with last minute tasks.

If plans on the erection of the new exhibit building are carried through, this will be the "farewell year" to the old show house which has served the exhibitors for many years.

The past few years, with increased numbers of exhibits, the old show house has been crammed and displays have been difficult to set up properly. In case of a wet day, too, a new building, such as has been planned, will solve many a problem for the fair board.

Last year there were 99 members in the society and it would be most pleasing to reach the 100th mark this year. The society wants more members. "Competition makes the fair." Each year the board is anxious to improve the fair to some extent.

The women have added several new ideas in their sections. One new feature is a competition for church organizations in the county, entitled "mother's birthday." Each display will be comprised of eight items with so many points allowed for each one and arrangement is also an important factor. Many special prizes have been included throughout the various sections.

September 10 is "achievement day" for the 4H club and the potato club. These are sponsored by the society but a great deal of work has been carried on for these by Messrs. Orville Hicks, Leslie Prentice and Clarence McInerney and the agricultural representatives too. The club members work hard from early spring in preparation for the big day and as time goes on points are given in recognition of their progress and then they gain further points on ach-

Weather Report

During the past week we have had just about all kinds of weather. On Friday, August 19 we had the maximum temperature of the year when the mercury hit 84 degrees.

On Tuesday morning, August 24, it was real cool—the thermometer dipping to 36 degrees.

Rainfall over the week end amounted to 1.10 inches.

We might add that July 27 and August 19 have been the two hottest days so far during this comparatively cool summer.

IT ISN'T THE TOWN, IT'S YOU

(by R. W. Glover)

If you want to live in the kind of town

That's the kind of town you like,

You needn't slip your clothes in a grip

And start on a long, long hike.

You'll find elsewhere what you left behind,

For there's nothing that's really new;

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town,

It isn't your town—it's you. Real towns are not made by men afraid

Lest somebody else gets ahead.

When everyone works and nobody shirks,

You can raise a town from the dead.

And if, while you are making your stake,

Your neighbor can make one too,

Your town will be what you want to see,

For it isn't your town—it's you.

evement day.

These fine calves may be seen on fair day and you'll be surprised at the splendid baskets of potatoes produced right in our own county.

Fair day is a day to meet your old friends. Entertainment has been looked after too. This year the Barrie Pipe Band will be on hand in full dress kilts, so famous HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER . . .

A large number of our citizens are complaining about the town dump and anyone who has been out there lately certainly has plenty to beef about. It would appear that things have got completely out of hand as far as dumping operations are concerned and as a result our dump is fly attracting, germ producing, stinking mess. In the interest of public health some action should be taken to set things in order out there and after things are cleaned up they should be kept that way to prevent a recurrence of conditions as they now exist. It is our humble opinion that we must soon have garbage collection with supervised dumping and a systematic burning of all refuse. If there are any other ways to remedy this situation, they should be put forward.

many persons willing to sacrifice a little of their time for the higher things of life.

As much as we hate to realize the fact, we must admit summer is fast fleeting and fall is almost upon us. In fact we had heavy frost on Wednesday morning and one notices the shortening in the daylight hours. A large special train pulled by two giant diesel engines arrived on Wednesday to take the members of Camp White Pine back to the city. However we can all hope for a nice long warm and pleasant fall season.

We had a visit from an old friend last week in the person of Mr. Harry Palen. Harry had been attending the funeral of Miss May Woods of Lindsay and took the opportunity to visit his sister, Mrs. Elwood Austin, for a couple of days. Mr. Palen, though now a resident of Toronto, has always taken a great interest in local happenings and is greatly interested in the "Quest of Yesterday," being written by Mrs. Nila Reynolds. While discussing this most interesting history of Haliburton Mr. Palen stated that his son, John Palen, was the first baby baptized in the new St. George's church built in 1923. John Palen was a great grandson of the late Capt. John Lucas whose name is mention in the "Quest of Yesterday."

The new First Baptist Church that is under construction here is coming along nicely. The contractors on the new building we might say are Barry and Sisson of West Guilford. Many citizens have remarked on the great interest being shown by the members of this congregation who almost every evening can be seen on the location of the new building viewing the progress that is being made. At a time when the greater number of people seem to have little time to give to matters effecting the church it is refreshing to see so

A few weeks ago when riding along the highway between Toronto and Hamilton I could not help but be struck with the tremendous industrial development that has taken place there. Another things that strikes you is that almost in every case such factories are served with a railroad siding. Railway tracks run parallel to all of these industries. Railway service is something that will come in for consideration if we ever are able to secure industry that can use the forest products so plentiful in this area. However the public's "do nothing" policy in the face of the latest move on the part of the C.N.R. to curtail freight and express service means only one thing—railway service here will soon be a thing of the past.

This Sunday evening the congregation at the Gospel Lighthouse will have the pleasure of hearing and seeing the Rev. R. L. Dean who ministered here some eight years ago and is well known to many. The Rev. Dean, who is now stationed at North Surrey, B.C., will be accompanied by Mrs. Dean, Elizabeth and Calvin.

We have just been informed that Mrs. Fred Neimann of Haliburton should surely take first prize for the largest hollycock. Believe it or not it stands in her garden at 10 feet, six inches.

ODE TO HOGS HOLLOW

There are four or five girls
in our "hollow,"
Who adore the gay color of white;
For it's worn from the first rays of dawning
'Til the last dirty dishes at night.

The four have a few things
in common,
Like red dishpan hands and sore feet;
And for people who can't hear the kitchen.
Our smiles and our manners are sweet.

But each is a true individual,
With a size and a shape all her own,
Like the long, tall and shady
Miss Turner,
Who goes by the alias of Joan.

This Joan is a nasty Bohemian,
Who dislikes Sir Presley the Great;
She won't lick out jars that are empty,
And she wears a pink cap on her pate.

Each Monday she leaves with her "father?,"
To fly to an innocent camp,
To the unknowing boys who don't know yet,
But they soon will—right after her "vamp."

We have an old faithful among us,
Four years of pursuing her men;
As yet she hasn't corralled
one,
But she has quite a few in the pen.

She makes all the Mounties
her target
And also the men who make calls;
Like Frank, with his "very fresh" plum loaf,
But he shines best with her
at the falls.

The youngest among us is Sandy,
So innocent, shy and naïve,
Which, of course, is a terrible untruth,
That only a fool would believe.

Right now she is practising luring
A man, maybe Ted, where she can Test his new phrases upon him,
Like "Hi, you big hunk of he-man."

Another among us is Nancy,
With stories that none believes;
"Golly, you're sweet," is heard every day,
And we now call it Nancy's pet peeve.

She's almost hitched to a badminton player,
Her reason is, "I'm always the winner;"
We know this is just an excuse,
'Cause when they're married,
we know he'll beat her.

There are four or five girls
in our hollow,
Who rise with a grunt every morn;
Unless your name-card is Sandra
Who wakes, and is quickly airborne.

We talk in a language that's different
From any that's heard anywhere;
With toasted, plain, scrambled or one-up,
Fried onions, and hamburgers done rare.

Our summer is just about over,
A few weeks and then we go home;
But we'll take far more memories
back with us,
Than could ever be writ in a poem.

THE WEEKLY ROUNDUP

The building trade, after a slow start, seems to be picking up in Haliburton with the Baptist church underway, the Haliburton County District High School addition, the high school staff house and Rex Boice putting up a beautiful home on the outskirts of town.

The boys and girls camps moved out this week and the loss of these guests will be felt by the local merchants.

The rain that we received over the week end was a wonderful thing as the forests and grass were nearly burning to a crisp. We understand that the Dept. of Lands and Forests had stopped issuing fire permits before the rain.

The main street of Haliburton experienced another good week of business with tourists flocking in by large numbers. It was practically impossible to get a parking space on the main street at any time in the day.

The Rotary beach is a hive of activity this year and there is hardly a day that the beach isn't filled with children and adults swimming and enjoying the sun. It appears that more children are taking the swimming courses this year.

While at the Rotary beach the other day we were quite pleased to see the wonderful badminton and tennis court that has been made by Ann Hill, the park supervisor.

Grant Brooks Speaks At Haliburton Rotary

The Haliburton Rotary Club held their weekly luncheon at the United church on Thursday last. We were pleased to welcome so many visiting Rotarians from all parts of Ontario and the U.S.

It was welcome home to the club secretary, Jack Robertson who has just returned from a trip out west. It was good to see Norm Sisco present at the meeting. Norm was a former principal at the Haliburton County District High School.

In honor of W. R. Curry's 80th birthday, a cake, donated by Rotarian Dick Clarke, was placed on the head table and passed around for all members to partake.

Bob Bishop, who is in charge of birthdays, had each member sign a card with his birthday date and the year he was born. President Frank Litt read out the district governor's monthly letter which showed that the Haliburton Rotary Club were first in attendance for the month of July in district 701 with one 100% meeting in August.

The minutes of the last directors' meeting were read and after September 1 all club meetings are to start at 6.30 p.m.

President Frank also reminded the club that attendance had been exceptionally good, but we cannot lay back and take it easy.

The speaker was Grant Brooks of Haliburton who gave a wonderful address. Grant, who is very popular and takes a great interest in community affairs, is always interesting to listen to.

Chapter 4—"Progress"

What native Canadian is not familiar with "The Song My Paddle Sings" which is found in every poetry anthology and school reader from coast to coast? Written by E. Pauline Johnson who was half Mohawk Indian and fiercely proud of the fact, this poem contains a lyrical beauty uniquely Canadian. The woman herself was unforgettable; tall, full bodied, with a dancer's walk, her curly raven hair and smoky grey green eyes lit the love light in the hearts of many famous contemporaries. Her vibrant throaty voice charmed two continents.

Past 30 before she began her literary or stage career which was to last decades, her strong yet winning personality, soon made her a favorite from Halifax to Vancouver and won her acclaim in London's society.

Lord Cecil Manners, at a brilliant Mayfair dinner party was moved to exclaim, "Really Miss Johnson, you are a most absorbing woman!"

To the writer, the most exciting fact unearthed to date in her quest of yesterday is the information that sometime between 1897 and 1902, E. Pauline Johnson herself stood on the stage of Haliburton's new town hall. There, garbed in her traditional Indian costume in which she had entertained Queen Victoria, she recited "The Song My Paddle Sings" which might easily have been written about one of our Haliburton streams.

Mrs. Jane Fairfield, in describing the occasion asserts that her performance, sponsored by a Haliburton organization, probably the Orange Lodge, was not well attended due to the prohibitive admittance fee of 25 cents.

Today the council of the Municipality of Dysart et al hold their meetings on this stage which has been renovated to form a council chamber separate from the business office of the municipality, but the floor boards are the original ones which felt the tread of her dainty moccasins (now preserved in a British Columbia museum).

To one who believes that E. Pauline Johnson's contribution to Canadian poetry is one of the greatest to be made by a woman, the old stage becomes a shrine to her memory. How her heart must have rejoiced in the glorious scenery of our rugged highlands. Did they inspire some of her consequent poems?

In 1866 C. R. Stewart and Mr. Hicks left the emigration company and Alexander Niven, P.L.S., became the resident agent. His land office was on the present location of Mrs. Bella Bernstein's store.

Mr. Niven, in addition to his surveying activities was an active member of the Presbyterian church which overlooked the village. Often in the absence of the regular minister, he took charge of the church service.

The Presbyterian church, which included on its member rolls the Stotharts, Nicholls, Goulds, Dugans and Reids, dates from 1868 to its union with the Methodist congregation in 1918. Records of the Methodist church were destroyed in a fire just previous to 1910 but its membership included the Kellerts, Gorries and Gainforths.

The Presbyterian congregation's building committee was organized in the Hal-burton school house on October 16, 1868. Chairman of the building project was Daniel McFarlane assisted by Alexander McDonald, Adam Patterson and John Stothart. Peter Ferguson was secretary and Alexander Niven treasurer. This deputation was appointed to collect funds for the church which would cost an estimated $900. From 1872 to 1875 the town hall was rented for the services. The first minister, Rev. William Reeve, was ordained in Haliburton during March of 1872.

In 1875 100 feet on lots 6 and 7, block N in the town plot of Haliburton was secured and a frame gothic church 24 feet by 44 feet was erected by James Brown for $1,600. The church was not officially dedicated until 11 a.m. Sunday morning, October 31, 1875 when Rev. J. S. Murray conducted the first service. This building stood until the late 1950's when it became the property of the local Red Cross society who sold it to the Masonic lodge, North Entrance No. 463, for their new hall.

Following the resignation of Rev. Reeve in 1876 and the exodus of several supporting families, the congregation encountered difficulties and were often forced to settle for student ministers during the summer months. In spite of such adverse fortune, the church became free of debt in 1891 and a new organ was purchased in 1893.

The first Methodist church was located where the Red Cross hospital now stands and was built around the turn of the century. It burned prior to 1910 and the Methodists rented the Presbyterian church until the new building, the present United church, could be erected. A new choir loft was added in 1915.

The Methodist and Presbyterian congregations united on July 10, 1918. Since that date the church has been completely renovated, a chancel, new pews, an electric organ, chimes and an oil furnace have been added. Alexander Niven would indeed be proud of the church which stands today on the site of the first shanty built by Capt. John Lucas.

The new emigration company manager was Charles J. Bloomfield, a son of Bishop Bloomfield of London. The new manager's home, done in white siding with a wide bay window overlooking the main street was built near the location of the old post office which was recently purchased and renovated by the Dysart Municipal Telephone System.

Sometime previous to the 1870's, Charles R. Stewart built "Newnham" on his property on Head Lake west of the village of Haliburton. Unfortunately, these historic buildings, unoccupied for many years, burned to the ground in the middle 1930's.

People who remember Newnham well use the adjective "handsome." Mr. Stewart was the first business man to cater to tourists which, after the arrival of the railway, included many wealthy Americans. Newnham was certainly Haliburton County's first tourist resort.

By the 1880's Newnham must have been slightly reminiscent of some baronial estate in the British Isles for it had, in addition to the usual comfortable quarters, a band stand, extensive stables, a theatre, a ballroom and a great hall in which a complete suit of armour (once worn by some medieval knight) used to hang.

With such props to stimulate the imagination, is it any wonder that, when the building became vacant, the local children populated it with suitable tenants? Lights were supposed to flicker over the dusty pool table, ghostly figures in floating draperies jangled the keys of the grand piano or moaned about the deserted rooms. Only the bravest ventured near the grounds when darkness fell.

Alas for the lovely haunts! Were there any truth in the stories, the location must by now be completely exorcised. In 1953 the Haliburton County District High School was constructed on the old site of Newnham. Nothing could be less compatible than noisy, active students and silent ghosts who thrive on loneliness.

One of the Stewart daughters, Agnes Louisa who later married R. E. Southby, was musically talented and gave lessons in that art to aspiring students. Among her pupils was Mrs. Jane Fairfield who from 1900 to 1902 taught the McEvers school near the village.

The Stewarts were pillars of St. George's Anglican Church whose congregation also included the Moons, Parishes, Austins, Potts and Burkes, also the Dovers and the Bains.

At the death of her father, James Dover in 1915, Catherine Dover, who had previously been a teacher, assumed the positions which her father had filled. She became postmistress and treasurer of the municipality. An astute business woman, Miss Dover served her community well for many years.

A well equipped private theatre beside the main buildings of Newnham was in the 1880's the home of a thriving dramatic society which produced very commendable amateur theatricals. Mr. W. Crosthwaite and the Bloomfields were among the aspiring actors who once trod its boards. When the students of the county high school participate in dramatic productions on the stage of their modern auditorium, it is thrilling to remember that they are carrying on a theatrical tradition which was begun by the Stewarts and their distinguished friends who must have felt strongly that "the play's the thing!"

Mrs. Lila Laking recalls her childish wonder at the elaborate costumes of satin and velvet which Mr. Stewart himself once showed her. The old gentleman was a great lover of children and it was his custom to invite a number of youngsters from the village for a lavish meal of their favorite foods. Saturday afternoon became a red letter day which was anticipated with pleasure by the fortunate ones who had been summoned to the feast. At that time Mr. Stewart was living at Newnham in the company of an English friend, Mr. Fowles.

Mrs. Laking also remembers the Anglican picnic excursions to an island in Kashagawigamog. A hired steamboat towed the great scow laden with happy holiday crowds to Newnham where American tourists from the lodge were taken aboard, also an organ to accompany the sing song.

A clipping from Mrs. Laking's scrapbook describes just such a gala affair although the location in this case was the woods near the old Presbyterian parsonage. Every store in the town of Haliburton was closed for the occasion. The Anglican pastor, the Rev. Goodheart who was in charge of the event, was assisted by Mr. J. Paul, Mr. T. Parish and Mr. Southby and a committee of ladies which included Mrs. Spur, Mrs. Gorrie, Mrs. Potts, Miss Bain Miss Dover and Miss Allison. The picnic, which must have been in the "everybody welcome" class, was attended by over 300 people. Tables were set up which fed 80 people at a time.

In the years prior to 1900, cricket was the favorite sport in the town of Haliburton. After the railway arrived it was not uncommon for the Haliburton cricket team to travel by train to Lindsay for a game but the best matches were probably between Haliburton's own First Eleven and the Twenty-Two All Comers.

Playing for the First Eleven were W. Ritchie, W. Crosthwaite, John Reid, Geo. Dean, John Erskine, J. S. K. Angus, G. Robinson, C. Gainforth, W. McKelvey, Dr. Spilsbury and E. Leith.

The Twenty Two All Comers included H. Miller, A. Hurd, P. Conway, F. Dart, R. Thompson, F. Dover, J. Iredale, H. Chase, C. Heaves, P. Crawford, J. F. Young, D. Dover, D. Madill, R. McKelvey, W. Wastell, T. Bellair, W. Lucas, P. Paull, W. Miller, E. P. Hoxie, N. Sluman and W. Prust.

The report which follows is also taken word for word from Mrs. Laking's scrapbook and must be dated previous to 1882, for in that year Miss Alice Lucas became Mrs. E. P. Hoxie.

"I have to relate the particulars of a very pleasant incident which took place on Monday evening. It was the presentation of a flag to the cricket club by the ladies of Haliburton, and the ceremony was performed in the town hall, in the presence of a large and fashionable assembly.

"First of all as to the flag. It was made by the ladies themselves, the three young ladies who took the matter in hand being Miss Wastell, Miss Ilman and Miss Alice Lucas, and they performed their duties with admirable taste, and discretion and judgement.

"A great deal of work was involved in completing the flag, but the work was most successful and a flag of great beauty was the result. It measured about five yards by three and was constructed of scarlet bunting, bearing the symbols of crossed bats and wickets worked in amber satin. In the centre were the club's initials, HCC and around were large maple leaves, gracefully wreathed, and worked in green silk. The general effect was excellent.

"Now to the presentation. About 8 o'clock the inhabitants began to assemble in the hall, and by half past the seats were filled. Then Miss Mabel Ilman, stepping forward delivered a very brief address in a clear voice and with considerable elocutionary skill, and unfurling the flag presented it to Mr. Crosthwaite, the captain of the club.

"The captain made a very appropriate speech in reply, in which he dwelt on the beauty of the Haliburton ladies and delivered himself of sentiments which would have done credit even to the age of chivalry. He then thanked the ladies in the name of the club, and was about to retire, but here another incident occurred, namely the presentation to Mr. Crosthwaite of a bat by the members of the club.

"This presentation was made by Mrs. Angus, Mr. Angus reading a very complimentary address which was feelingly responded to by the recipient.

"The entire village shared in the gratification of this presentation, for Mr. Crosthwaite's services to the club are fully recognized by all the inhabitants.

"At the conclusion of these two interesting events, the company abandoned themselves to the influences of the mazy dance and pirouetted until about midnight. It was a very happy evening.

"We are expecting large parties of hunters up here next week. Both Mr. McKelvey and Mr. Sluman have made preparation for the reception of such parties and have hounds, canoes, guns and all the necessary appointments ready for their accommodation. The deer are plentiful, the season is fair and parties coming up here for a hunt can have splendid sport.

"On Tuesday the return match between Lindsay and our club was played. On account of rain it resulted in a draw, with the game in favor of Haliburton. The visitors took the bat first and scored 53. Haliburton followed and made 96, Lindsay then made 62, and Haliburton went in with 50 to make the win, but the game was stopped by heavy rain. The flag floats bravely. Details next week."

Here this folksy report of other days ends and for us next week will never come. Like so many other historical documents of interest it was probably sacrificed to the flames and housewifely zeal.

HYDRO'S CNE EXHIBIT FEATURES NUCLEAR POWER

Visitors to the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto this year will be able to trace the entire scope of electric energy—from the first pulse of generation to the final moment when appliances are plugged in.

One of the most comprehensive exhibits ever produced by Hydro, models, maps and murals, as well as a life size, all electric home graphically outline new horizons in the story of electricity. Highlights are a model of the coal fired Lakeview generating station, with a planned capacity larger than any similar plant now in existence, and a model of Canada's first full scale nuclear electric station, fueled by uranium. For the home owner, Hydro's home-in-the-round is a showcase of the latest electrical equipment and appliances.

The 1960 displays in the Hydro building on the CNE grounds were unveiled today at a special press preview by James S. Duncan, chairman of Ontario Hydro, and Bert-ram Merson, chairman of the Toronto Hydro-Electric System.

More than 10,000 parts were used in building the large model of the Lakeview generating station. This new development is now under construction just west of Metropolitan Toronto.

A scale model of the Douglas Point nuclear power project shows visitors the shape of the generating stations of the future. Different in appearance from conventional thermal plants, the Douglas Point station's most impressive architectural feature is the circular main building which houses the reactor. One hundred feet high, it is capped by a steel dome 130 feet in diameter.

Illuminated panels and displays trace new developments in farm electrification and service to the nearly half million rural customers supplied by Ontario Hydro, and in general transmission facilities. Included is an exhibit of the extra high voltage (EHV) transmission development planned by Ontario Hydro. North America's first major 460,000 volt line, it will deliver power from remote hydro-electric stations on the James Bay watershed in Northern Ontario.

To complete the story of electricity, Hydro's model home presents the story of electrical living. Built around a tree shaded court, the home graphically illustrates the modern way of life.

Fourteen graceful hostesses are on hand to explain the many uses of electricity in the home. At the press preview, the girls—all high school seniors from Metropolitan Toronto—gave a polished 12-minute description of the home's many features.

These include an electric range with a pull-out cooking surface and a frost-free refrigerator. Switches throughout the home can be operated by a tap of the knee. In the model recreation room, stress is given to lighting effects and the latest in entertainment equipment.

This year the Gold Medallion home, the name conferred by the electrical industry on homes having the necessary services for major electrical appliances and electric heating, is backed up by a Medallion Court. Here, in an information booth, attendants will provide answers to visitors' questions about appliances, equipment, wiring and other aspects of "Living Better Electrically."

Ontario's Transport Minister John Yaremko measures Donna McNall's height with the aid of the Department's new safety ruler while Luciana DelMonte, Jack Bernstein and Geoffrey Ebisuzaki of Toronto's Clinton Street School wait their turn. The ruler combines height and weight charts with practical traffic reminders for children. For the twelfth consecutive year the Transport Department and the Department of Education will distribute one million of these summer safety reminders to Ontario's elementary school children. WILBERFORCE

The Ernie Lindell show from CKVR-TV Barrie wandered up Wilberforce way in true western style last Saturday night to put on a very fine show.

This versatile group came up with some very good comedy and pantomime acts.

Songs like "Sink the Bismarck" and "Heartaches by the Numbers" will still be echoing around our hills for months to come.

An estimate of the attendance of the show at Wilberforce community centre would be close to 400.

Bancroft, Haliburton and Gooderham were well represented and the older folk seemed to enjoy the show as much as the young folk did.

There will be another week of vacation Bible school which holds its classes daily in St. Margaret's church under the leadership of two young students of the Anglican Women's Training College. Their names are Miss Dorothy Daly and Miss Fujiko Yokota.

These classes have given children of all ages much pleasure and valuable instruction.

Miss Yokota will spend her two weeks vacation with friends at Calgary, Alta, after the termination of the Bible school classes in Wilberforce.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Long and family, Mr. and Mrs. Reddick and family, Mr. Morris Stultz, and his father, Mr. Emmerson Stultz, all from Ohio, are spending their vacation on Dark Lake in the Leonard Holmes' apartments.

Congratulations to Master Rickey Denison and Miss Patsy Mathers of Wilberforce who succeeded in passing their junior swimming tests at Head Lake, Haliburton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson of St. Catharines called on Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bowen last Saturday.

Mrs. Edward Brooks and family, Tillie, Karen and Richard, living near Sault Ste. Marie, both surprised and delighted the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen, when they arrived in time to celebrate Mr. Bowen's 72nd birthday. Mr. Bowen claims it was one of the happiest birthdays he has had. His other daughters Mrs. R. Mumford of Harcourt and Mrs. H. Dunford of Tory Hill were there also with their families, helping to make it a memorable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Tallman returned home from Newcastle, N.B., where they enjoyed two weeks holiday.

Judy and Gail Tallman spent two weeks in Belleville with Mr. and Mrs. George Grant.

Mrs. Allan Billings and family are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Neil Billings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Young and two children from Port Weller, Ont., are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Patrick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Phelps, of St. Catharines, also visited Mr. and Mrs. H. Patrick recently.

Miss Jane Wells of Toronto was a guest for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Schofield.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tallman and four children are spending their holiday at their cottage in Wilberforce.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Wood and two children are spending the week end with Mrs. Wood's mother, Mrs. E. R. Tallman.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Tallman and girls have gone on a week's camping trip. They plan to travel by way of Elliott Lake, taking the ferry to Manitoulin Island.

Carl Godfrey of Elliott Lake and his boy friend are week end visitors of Mr. George Webber.

Miss Emily Billings of Lindsay spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Billings.

Mrs. Alec Bowers spent the week visiting friends in Peterboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mathers had the pleasure of entertaining two of the Ernie Lindell group at dinner on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark and family of Peterboro visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark this past week end.

Miss Hilda Clark, who has been attending summer school at Hamilton is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minns Nancy and Michael, spent 10 days with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnston and have returned to their home in Barrie.

and beloved of any true Scot. Peter the clown, the children's favorite will be back again after a few year's absence and will be on deck to entertain young and old.

On stage too will be a ladder artist, a comedy juggler and a Scottish accordeonist. Besides these there will be contests, races, etc. The merry-go-round, fakers and games of chance will make up the midway. The various organizations of the county have concessions all ready for refreshments.

Several public schools in the county have entered in the school exhibit section.

All in all, with a few additional plans, this year ought to be one of the best fairs, weather permitting.
